Coming Around

*Coming around, Coming around
Its coming back around
Coming around, Coming around
Its coming back around*

*I smell the beast a coming
I taste its senses sharpening
I see the fear as it builds
When they hear it snarling
They feel their power crumbling
They feel their feet are stumbling Their falling down to the ground and their fevers pumping*

*Coming around, Coming around
Its coming back around
Coming around, Coming around
Its coming back around*

Well their four to the floor as their crawling for the door its seems fair, they never prepared when they've seen this all and more before they feel the fists are falling they hear the hunters call let them go you do not know how hard they try when the wait is falling

*Coming around, Coming around
Its coming back around
Coming around, Coming around
Its coming back around*

*Coming around, Coming around
Its coming back around
Coming around, Coming around
Its coming back around*
