Killing time

I never wanted to be an idol singer of empty days I wish I had faith like a faithful one its a struggling taste that lasts too long

There's one thing that I could do I know I could learn to do this cos when it feels easy its easy to do it sure feels easy just sitting here with you so easy just killing time with you

The weight of these words is dropping off before all is spoken of Its my mistake and ill not take it back its one of those things like happiness

*There's one thing that I could do
I know I could learn to do this
cos when it feels easy its easy to do it sure feels easy just lying here with you so easy just killing time with you yeah its easy killing our time*

We better take this time while nothing we've got catch the last from the nearest roof top I feel the giving up is near but not yet close enough for me to fear.

*And there's one thing that I could do I know I could learn to do this
cos when it feels easy its easy to do
so easy just killing time with you*

*There's one thing that I could do
I know I could learn to do this
cos when it feels easy its easy to do it sure feels easy just being here with you so easy just killing time with you Yeah its easy killing my time*
