

Jon Kenzie

Temper Tensions

*I feel cold winters freeze
Still sticking to me
Still the tension is thick
In the air I breath
Cheeky little lady
With red raw noise*

*If temperature rises
The tensions will fall
If temperature rises
The tensions will fall*

*I hear the cold slap crashes
And the bit tongue hums
Crispy bitter words
Banging into warm drums
Lets raise it to the ground
So heat can grow*

*If temperature rises
The tensions will fall
If temperature rises
The tensions will fall*

*Just let your temper fall
If the temperature rises our tensions will fall
Just let your temper fall
Let it warm up stop head butting walls*
