

Jon Kenzie

With draw

I pulled over
To see how sincere that look was
Now made sober
By yours eyes I hide into
The cold and lonely
Is all that you left me with
Those lies you told me
Not worth the air you whispered in my ears

Your whisper soothed
I remember how your whisper soothed
Now so far from me I cannot sooth
I remember how your whisper soothed

I fell under
Your feet that tread so hard upon
My heart bursts open
And spreads out all the memories
Of when we'd spoken
Softer sounds and passion in our touch
I long for
Now so far from me I cannot feel it

Your whisper soothed
I remember how your whisper soothed
Now so far from me I cannot sooth
I remember how your whisper soothed
Your whisper soothed
I remember how your whisper soothed
Now so far from me I cannot sooth
I remember how your whisper soothed
